MEN WORKING HARD

Holds Stiff Practice.

Physical Director at Hilltoppers' Institution Proposes to Conduct Monthly Athletic Games in Ryan Gymnasium, Open to College and Prep Stars-First Event Nov. 20.

Coach Newman, of the Georgetown football team, gave his charges a stiff practice yesterday afternoon in the first scrimmage which the 'varsity and scrubs have played since the North Carolina game last Saturday.

Newman is trying to correct the weakness of getting down the field under punts and tackling. Several times this season the Hill Toppers have demonstrated that they are lacking in this art. For a half hour Wymard got off his long punts, ranging from 40 to 50 Fards, while two players would dash down the field to tackle the man receiving the ball. Two men were ready to dump them, but generally they were eluded, and the man with the ball tackled on the spot. The tackling dummy also received his share of attention, and the men are showing improvement every day in the diving tackles after the elusive figure.

Serimmage Is Short.

The scrimmage was light and short, as Newman does not want to have any more scrub full of last year, will most likely go into full now that Waldron will not allowed to play, and if Smith cannot get back in the game by the end of this week he will be used in the game against Fordham. Neither Carrigan nor Mc-Nulty got in the scrimmage, the latter player being still bothered a great deal with his sprained ankle.

Manager Murray announced that the officials for next Tuesday's game against Fordham had been selected with mutual satisfaction. Mr. Saunders, of Yale, will to decide the referee the game, while Mr. Thorpe, of the world. Columbia, will be the umpire

George Washington Rounding In

Shape for Hard Battle. As the final hard practice of the week, morrow, the George Washington team was put through a hard scrimmage with Technical High yesterday.

Their offensive work, with Ellis Far ner, Horn, and Porter in the back field, GYM MEETS PLANNED BY JOYCE was particularly impressive, and Porter, who was played at quarter back, reminded one forcibly of Byrd, in his dashes around the end, and by his quickness and clever dodging.

In Porter and Morse the Hatchetites can boast of two of the best quarter acks in this section. On the defens the high school boys were given the ball repeatedly on the 'varsity's 10-yard line and found it a most difficult matter to make any headway whatever through their opponents.

Several of the scrubs were given a chance in the line for the Buff and Blue O'Neill. Whiting, Pagan, and Hamline were played at the ends. Morse, who has been eased up on by the coaches in preparation for Saturday's contest, went in only for a few minutes' signal drill after the scrimmage.

These men are both sick and in all probability will not put on a uniform until the latter part of next week. Business depended upon Lully to carry the ball and he will be greatly missed. Greer is one of the most aggressive centers of the high schools, and a strong defensive player. Central will undoubtedly be stronger in their next game, as a large squad has reported and two full teams are able to line up for Tech had a hard scrimmage practice yesterday, and Coach Hecox talked to the men severely about their forgetting their signals in the Tech-Central game. On several of the plays of this game, the men on the line became muddled and the play was wasted because of its slowness to start. The coach gives assurance that it will not happen again.

Hamill, the Eastern tackle, who was injured just before the Tech-Eastern game will probably be in the line-up against Western, and the team will be greatly strengthened with him. He was Knox... missed sorely against the Blacksmiths, Clear... and his place was a hard one to fill. The line-up of the team will probably be the same as that used against Tech, except in the case of Hamill, and the should be a fast and interesting game.
